CofC, Schools Form Summer Job Program

The Cameron Chamber of Commerce is starting a project to help local youths find jobs during the coming summer.
"Every summer there are many young people who are anxious to find work and who make very good employees in a variety of jobs," a Chamber spokesman said.
Application forms have been distributed in the junior high and the high school by the Chamber for those who are interested.
The forms will indicate what type of work the youth is interested in and what hours they are available to work. The applications will be on file in the Chamber office for anyone who needs to hire summer employees on a monthly, weekly, daily, or even hourly basis.
A call to the Chamber will bring help in finding someone to do the job. The work will include everything from odd jobs in homes and yards, to business and industrial help and jobs on the farm.
Bob Ellett, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said "Our young people will be looking for work and it is up to us, the community, to help them find it. We hope that anyone who needs some odd jobs done around the home, business establishments, or on the farm will give the young people a chance.
"Whatever the job," Ellett continued, "we think we will have someone to

'Lifesaving' Rains Come Just In Time

"Lifesaving" rain finally fell in Texas Friday, putting a good dent in one of the severest droughts in recent history. It may mean the difference between disaster and making it for farmers and ranchers.
Rainfall in Cameron totaled 1.11 inches through Saturday morning.
Most of the county's $3.8 million grain sorghum crop was planted before the rain, with some of it up and other dry-planted.
Cotton farmers had been waiting for moisture before planting that crop, which adds over a million dollars to the county's economy.
And cattlemen greeted the showers with joy for it means rejuvenation of native pastures and a chance to grow temporary pasture for their cattle.
Cattlemen had been selling off their stock and culling herds earlier than usual because of lack of feed.
Figures compiled in the Texas Department of Agriculture under Commissioner John White's direction showed that no section of the State has received more than 41 percent of normal rainfall in the months of November through March.
The Milam County Disaster Committee has requested relief for ranchers in the form of grazing privileges and feed for livestock, but no official designation of Milam County as a disaster had been received by the ASCS at press-time.
The rain was the first substantial moisture in Cameron since last October.

JOHNNY BAILEY
Johnny Bailey To Attend West Point

Johnny Bailey, a 3-year letterman for the Yoemen and president of his senior class, has received an appointment to West Point Military Academy in New York.
A letter from Maj. Gen. Verne L. Bowers and a telegram from U. S. Rep. W. R. Poage, confirmed the appointment last week. Gen. Bowers letter welcomed Bailey "to the Long Gray Line" as a cadet for the Class of 1975 and congratulated him on his "fine performance in the West Point entrance examinations."
Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hardie Bailey of Cameron, will report to West Point on July 1.
Announcement of the appointment followed college board exams and three days of physical and preferential examinations at Ft. Sam Houston in January.
Bailey is an honor student at Yoe High School, was awarded the Quarterback Club trophy as Outstanding Yoeman of 1970, and was twice named all-district 19AA center-linebacker. He was also an all-Centex selection.
Although Bailey's selection for West Point was based on academic and leadership ability, he hopes to continue athletic competition at the U. S. Military Academy.

Those were pushers who didn't care if the kid was 14 or 16."

Old Dutchtown Drug Gives Way To Tamales

Madre' mia, that's a good tamale! And it is served in the most unlikely place, the old Dutchtown Drugstore on West Batte St.
Mrs. Guadalupe Flores recently leased the former combination drugstore-coffeeshop, hung a bit of 'old Mexico' decoration on the wall, built a kitchen and is serving some of the best south of the border plates available.
Noon and evening crowds attest to the good food, but it really isn't an overnight success story. As Mrs. Flores says, it all started years ago on a wood burning stove when she was about 8 years old and her grandmother taught her to cook. The tamales, tacos, enchiladas, rice and beans served at the Mexican Cafe are cooked the way her grandmother taught, spiced with years of her own experience cooking for her family, church and local fiestas.
Mrs. Flores (called Lupe by her friends) was born at Rogers and traveled the Texas crops with her family. Sometimes they cooked on stone ovens in the field. "The best corn bread I ever ate," Mrs. Flores recalls. Then her father died and the family moved to the Hanover farm with her grandmother and uncles.
"My grandmother was very patient teaching me how to cook. I've loved cooking ever since." Her grandmother's rice is served on every Mexican plate. Mrs. Flores makes it fresh each day, starting with dry rice fried in a skillet. She adds garlic, onion, fresh tomatoes, water and tomato puree, then steams it. Tamales are made home on Wednesday when the cafe is closed. They are frozen and cooked just before the noon and evening rush. The cafe is really a family project. Mrs. Flores' daughters and daughter-in-law help during rush times. One son made the electric corngrinder that speeds up tamale making and her husband and sons built the small cafe kitchen. Mariann, the youngest Flores, built the tables that line the long cafe wall.

The old drugstore soda fountain is still the place, but the shelves that once held patent medicine now form one kitchen wall and are filled with jalapino peppers and other spices.

MRS. GUADALUPE FLORES

The menu is simple, limited to Mrs. Flores' specialties. "I've never had a Mexican cookbook," Mrs. Flores said, but she made a trip to Mexico City last year and found the food "very hot." Tacos, tamales and enchiladas are the main fare now. She plans to add a chicken dish cooked with chili powder.
School ended for Lupe in the 7th grade when she went to work keeping house for her former teacher at Hanover. Then marriage and her own family kept her busy -- plus preparing church and wedding dinners and making tamales for the twice-yearly Mexican fiestas.
After her husband suffered a serious illness, Mrs. Flores decided it was time to put her homemaking talents to work. And she did it in a big way. She got a job keeping house during the day, a second job at the Cameron Nursing Home at night, and in her 'spare time' opened a small cafe.
Her daily routine that first year reads like an endurance test. Her 'day' started at 11 p.m. when she went on duty at the nursing home, off at 7 a.m. and down to the cafe to begin food preparation for the noon meal, then over to her housekeeping job, and back to the cafe. "There were seven months of hospital bills to pay," she explained.
During this time her cafe business moved from a tiny space on the court-house square to the B&W Cafe in Dutchtown. She dropped her daytime job and now at the old Dutchtown Drug, she says "This is the best, we're so busy we already need more tables."

With Greater Confidence...

State Sen. Ralph Hall, author of the Senate Ethics Bill which probably will become "the" ethics bill after conference committee sessions, identifies the paradox of modern Texas.

Texas sees major crime rising 73 percent, the need for industrial growth, pollution control, lack of legislative planning. . . a mix of plus and minus which requires new technics in legislative vehicles.

He favors annual sessions, a rewrite of the Texas Constitution and his Ethics Bill, one of quite a number he has introduced in sessions since his becoming a state senator in 1963.

Senator Hall looks ahead. His Ethics Bill is considered by Milam Rep. Dan Kubiak, among others, the best alternative of those offered in Senate and House. It would limit practice of legislators who are attorneys before state boards and commissions, and it would require full financial disclosure of legislators, state officials, and officials in lower echelons of state and local government.

The point he makes urging the need for control of state officials' conflicting interest is that good government of a $6 billion biennial budget is impossible without the best possible leadership.

The kind of public concern vested in recent SEC disclosures will require strict measure of elected and appointed officials. Support for annual sessions, the new Constitution and solutions to our modern paradox, correctly identified by the Senator, depend on greater public confidence in government.

What Others Say...

Land-Sharing....

The White House's plans for land-sharing have a neater and simpler ring to them than its plans for revenue-sharing.

The landsharing program goes back to last July, when the White House asked federal and military agencies to audit their land holdings and find out what wasn't being used. The idea was to take a tenth of it -- potentially nearly $7 billion worth -- and turn it over to local or state governments for park and recreational or other use.

Last week the President asked for congressional approval of a shift of Pacific beachfront next to his San Clemente home to the state of California. The beach, now part of Camp Pendleton, was to be the first of a series of land turnovers on both coasts.

The White House hopes to announce more park-use turn-overs in time for this summer's beach season. If so, this could be a popular political move for the President to make. This is no less true even though his first reversion request will enhance his own San Clemente setting and his relations with California, now his home state.

The proper husbanding of land is more than the hoarding of it. And if precautions are taken to preserve environmental value, and to ensure that wrongly used land reverts back to the federal government, The White House's land - sharing proposals deserve congressional cooperation.

TSTI Regents To Meet

WACO The board of regents of the Texas State Technical Institute will meet in regular session on Monday, April 19, in the executive office building on the James Connally Campus.

Regular committee reports from standing committees on the board will be heard. J. H. Kullgen of Waco, chairman of the board, will report on the executive committee. Russel Watson of Tyler will report on matters concerning the finance committee. Harold Tate of Austin will give the board the latest progress on personnel and fringe benefits.

In other business, the board will hear particulars concerning the transfer of the Rio Grande Campus property in Harlingen to the State. The transfer took place last month in the Governor's office and officially turned over the property from the Lower Rio Grande Development Council to TSTI.

F. V. Wallace, board member from Amarillo, will bring the board up to date on the formation of a foundation in Amarillo, aimed at aiding in the development of TSTI in the Panhandle. The foundation will possibly resemble the Technical Foundation of America which was formed in Waco to further technical education at the James Connally Campus of TSTI.

During the morning session, Dr. Roy Dugger, president of TSTI, will discuss policy guidelines for utilization of certain property on TSTI campuses, and Dr. J. N. Baker, vice president of TSTI and general manager of the Mid-Continent Campus, will discuss negotiations with the city of Amarillo on the operation of utilities on the north Texas campus.

In addition, Milton Schiller, vice president of TSTI in charge of the Rio Grande Campus, will report to the board on the current status of the appropriations bill in the Texas Senate and House of Representatives.

FB Officer Speaks To Local Group

The Milam County Farm Bureau Young Farmers and Ranchers met Tuesday night at the Buckholts Ag Building for an informal hot dish supper.

There were nine young farmers and ranchers present with their wives as well as Milam County President Edwin Lehmann and Mrs. Lehmann and Texas Farm Bureau Commodity Director, Tommy Klemcke.

After the supper, Mr. Klemcke talked to the group about the new expanded program and the different requirements for both the marketing and commodity part of the program. There followed a question and answer period.

Edwin Lehmann talked about the regulation affecting farm pickups and trucks and urged them to write to John A. Volpe, Secretary of Transportation in Washington D.C.

Kubiak's Legislative Reports

The House of Representatives passed to third and final reading HB 266 by Rep. Jim Nugent. This is the ethics bill and "is the strongest bill ever introduced into an assembly in the 50 states," Rep. Dan Kubiak said in his April 8 newsletter.

The bill requires legislators, judges, executive officers and political candidates to file public financial statements, Rep. Kubiak stated.

Passage by mid-April is predicted by Rep. Dick McKissack of Dallas of an enabling act for the liquor by the drink constitutional amendment adopted last year. He predicts passage with 100 votes to place it into immediate effect on the local option basis.

The House General Investigating Committee was appointed this past week by the Speaker of the House, Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham.

The investigators include Reps. Menton Murray of Harlingen, chairman; Jim Nugent of Kerr County; Clyde Haynes of Vidor; Jim Slider of Naples; and DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi.

"If you have any opinions on this SEC matter," Kubiak said, "please write members of this committee or write to me, and I will refer the matter to the investigating committee."

In the Maid of Cotton Wardrobe—

Cottons Span Seasons...Circle Globe

CITY-MANNERED—Maid of Cotton Pat Perry shows how to span the seasons fashionably. Her solution: a softly tailored jacket dress in tweedy textured cotton woven on wool looms. In lavender and white plaid, the easy-going jacket tops a gently shaped dress with solid colored bodice. Designed for Claudia by George Halley.

What's a girl to wear when she's traveling throughout the United States and circling the globe as well?

If the girl is 1971 Maid of Cotton Pat Perry, the answer comes as no surprise. It's cotton, of course.

And Pat's fashionable wardrobe is filled with examples of cotton's unique versatility that enables it to span seasons as well as continents.

One of the newest things to crop up in cotton is a tweedy textured fabric that was actually woven on wool looms. It has the bulky textured look normally associated with wool, but all the comfort that just naturally goes with cotton.

For the Maid's wardrobe, the fabric is used in lavender and white plaid for an easy-fitting jacket dress.

Brushed cotton denim gives a soft touch to a traveling pantsuit for the Maid. It includes long pants with slightly flared legs, and a swirling cape that's detailed with white saddle-stitching.

Other pants outfits in the wardrobe include a jaunty knicker suit in a tiny woven geometric cotton; a leather-trimmed rainpants outfit in royal blue cotton canvas; and a tailored suit of dazzling white pique.

The summer version of the pantsuit—short shorts—appears in the Maid's collection, demurely covered by an ankle-length dress of ecrucolored cotton leno. The shorts are of cotton duck in the same shade.

Date dresses with simple silhouettes focus interest on textured cottons like cloques and diagonal twills overprinted in colorful floral designs.

For evening wear, clingy cotton jersey in a colorful Aztec print is treated to smocking on the close-fitting bodice and top of long flowing sleeves.

These are just a few of the cottons that make up the travel wardrobe for the American cotton industry's fashion and good will ambassadors.

Stops on her globe-circling tour include 34 cities in the United States, Canada, the Far East, and Europe.

Prior to her selection as Maid of Cotton, Pat was a senior at Longwood College in Farmville, Va. The first national Maid of Cotton from the state of Virginia, she's from Danville.

THE LONGER LOOK — Designer Geoffrey Beene chooses double woven cotton in a neat blue and white motif for a stylish mid-length dress and short cropped jacket.

HEARTS AND FLOWERS—Decidedly feminine is this ankle-length dress of navy and white cotton—all done up in hearts, flowers, and lacy trim. Deep scallops outline the fitted bodice and lace-trimmed skirt.

D&B Changes Credit Rating Key Symbols

A comprehensive change in Dun & Bradstreet's system of credit rating key symbols that will result in new rating designations for all of the 293 commercial businesses in Milam County reported by D&B has been announced by R. B. Armbruster, Jr., District Manager of the Houston office.

The changeover, which will become effective May 1, simplifies the present rating key system.

Armbruster also noted that this month Dun & Bradstreet has sent requests for financial statements to the almost three million businesses whose ratings appear in the Reference Book. The statements are mailed to all commercial businesses, regardless of size, and are part of the reports issued by the business information company.

The D&B rating key, in use to $50 - million" and "$1-million to $10-million" intermediate steps.

At the same time, the lowest bracket, "up to $3,000," will be eliminated. The new bottom financial bracket will be "up to $5,000."

The new credit rating key will differ from the present one in several respects. Because of the expanding economy, the previous highest financial strength rating of "over $1 - million" will be increased to an "over $50-million" bracket, with $10 - million for 100 years, has two parts -- estimated financial strength, designated by letters, and composite credit appraisal, designated by numbers.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Prices Are Reasonable At Lewis-Chili Shoe Store

A modern air conditioned store in a small community carrying standard merchandise at popular prices is the story behind the success of the Lewis-Chili Shoe Store in Cameron.

This plus a shoe sales staff with years of experience headed by Chili Manning, store manager, are the reason Lewis Chili Shoe Store maintains volume and price with changing public demands and styles.

Red Goose, Rand and "Miss Wonderful" are famous brands which are every-day stock merchandise in the Lewis-Chili Shoe Store, at 109 South Houston, downtown Cameron.

These famous names mean shoes for the entire family. Lewis-Chili is the only strictly family shoe store in Cameron and perhaps Milam County.

Chili Manning's 43 years in the shoe business amount to a lifetime of serving the footwear needs of two generations of Milam Countians: Father, Mother, brother and sister, at every age.

Lewis-Chili recently installed a modern display for updating part of the store. Other improvements continue as time and investment capital permit.

Assisting Manning at the Lewis-Chili Shoe Store are Mrs.

Josie Janek, serving customers at the store for 24 years, and Mrs. Oma Rogers, a retail shoe sales clerk for 18 years, full or parttime. Manning emphasizes Lewis-Chili Shoe Store is by this experience 17 old, established shoe store that keeps up with the times.

His emphasis on service and reasonable price keep customers coming back and keep Manning and his staff busy, building a newer ladder of success.

I. T. Gilbert Is A Top Salesman For Mutual Of Omaha

You win the Master Builders Club award by top salesmanship and service with Mutual of Omaha.

That is just what Ivey T. Gilbert, Milam County representative of the famous insurance company, delivers.

He is one of Mutual of Omaha's top 12 salesmen in the country, cited January, 1970, as a member of the Master Builders Club of Mutual of Omaha Insurance and its affiliate, United Benefit Life Insurance Company.

He won similar recognition in a plaque presented in January, 1968.

Gilbert is a sales and service representative for Milam County, a responsibility he has held for five years. He has a total of 13 years experience in the insurance sales field.

Four times a year he joins with other representatives of Mutual of Omaha in study course and seminars to update information on today's service needs for both companies and what other companies are offering.

So Gilbert's presentation is timely. And a Mutual of Omaha policy pays and pays, because, he points out, of one clause.

It is a reoccurrence clause no other health and accident company provides which can be used over and over and over for the same disability. Gilbert cites one policy holder's experience in which the man received $15,000 for one disability for recurring health problems due to the one deficiency.

Born in Buckholts, Gilbert graduated from Sharp High School before it was consolidated about 15 years ago. He is married, and he and wife Pat have three children Ronald, 16; Brenda, 13; and Donna, 10. The Gilberts live on West 22nd Street where he also works. His business address is P. O. Box 63, Cameron.

His awards for production of new policy applications and dollars collected assure the policy buyer, either in health and accident or life insurance, that Ivey T. Gilbert can serve you well.
